Description – The mission of Boy Scouts of America is to prepare young people to make ethical choices over their lifetimes by instilling in them the values of the Scout Oath and Law. Trained adult leaders serve as mentors to young men and women. BSA programs are designed to provide our young people with experiences and opportunities that enable them to make informed career and personal decisions. BSA programs focus on the positive physical, mental and moral development of young people. Scouting emphasizes community service. BSA is a nationwide organization that serves youth ages 7-20 of all races and cultures. As of Dec. 31, 2003, more than 4.7 million young people were enrolled nationwide in the BSA in 144,217 units (Boy Scout Troops, Club Packs, Venturing Crews, Explorers Posts and learning for Life groups) operated in 50 states.

Comments – Today's young people need guidance and access to resources that help to develop skills for successful living; problem-solving, conflict resolution, and respect for others to name only a few. As single-parent and non-traditional families become more common in Eddy County, it becomes increasingly difficult for family members to provide role models, wholesome and education activities and guidance. Boy Scout leaders are there for our children as role models and as mentors. The Boy Scout program tackles serious problems such as drug abuse, child abuse, and violence, and provides education and alternatives. Boy Scout programs prepare youngsters for career opportunities and build self-esteem by giving youngsters an avenue for setting goals and achieving them. Studies show that boys who are involved with Cub and Boy Scouting achieve higher levels of education and better-paying jobs. As adults, they continue to be guided in their personal and business lives by Scouting values.
